EBENEZER MARTIN

FOUNDER OF MARTIN'S FERRY OHIO

Contributed by: Margaret Kirkland, P. O. Box 4768, Columbus, Ohio 43202

The following sketch is found in the History of the Upper Ohio Valley, page 547. Published in 1890 by Brant and Fuller, Madison, Wisconsin.

Notes from Margaret Kirkland show that the Zanes mentioned in this sketch are of the famous Zane family who lived across the Ohio River in Wheeling, Virginia (now West Virginia). Betty Zane was famous as the girl who made the dash to Fort Henry with gun powder during an attack on the fort by the Indians.

"Ebenezer Martin, founder of Martin's Ferry, born November 9, 1791, on what is now the site of the Benwood blast furnace, died January 15, 1876, was one of the most widely known pioneers of eastern Ohio. He was the son of Absalom Martin, a native of New Jersey, who assisted in the earliest government surveys of Ohio, and received therefor a grant of 640 acres near the site of Martin's Ferry, on the west side of the river. During the war of the revolution he had been a gallant soldier, and he held the rank of captain. He settled upon his grant in the latter part of the last century and died there in 1800. In 1789 he was married to Catherine, daughter of Ebenezer Zane, and they had two children, a daughter, who died young, and Ebenezer, the subject of this sketch. The spirit of the latter be judged by the fact that he traveled on horseback from his Ohio home to Princeton, N. J., to obtain an education. On his return home he took charge of the farm and continued to manage it during the remainder of his life, and after his father's death also conducted the ferry which the elder Martin established over the Ohio river, and retained control of this until 1840, when he sold it to Hugh Nichols. In 1835 he layed out the town which was known until recent years as Martinsville, but now as Martin's Ferry. He devoted considerable time to fruit raising, having one of the best orchards in the valley. To this, such was his charity and kindness, all poor people had free access. His faith in human nature was imposed upon by many dishonest rogues, and most of his property has passed out of his hands before his death. His good deeds were beyond number, and all mourned his death. His religious affiliation was with the Methodist Church, to which he gave a lot when he platted the town, and in politics he was a whig and afterwards a republician. Mr. Martin was first married in 1809, to Hannah McLaughlin, a daughter of Elizabeth Zane, and by this union he had nine children, of whom one survives: Catherine E. In 1837, his first wife having died, he married Minerva, daughter of Isaac Zane, and they had ten children: Isaac, Rebecca V., wife of Mr. Van Pelt of Lansing, Mich.; Ebenezer, of Lake Harbor, Mich.; Edith M., deceased; Leonidas, of Lake Harbor, Mich.; Antoinette, of the same place; Annie M., wife of William H. Wood; Lucian B., of Fostoria, Ohio, and two who died in infancy. Three of the sons by the first marriage were soldiers in the war of the rebellion. Absalom died in a hospital at St. Louis; John M., a transport pilot, and Ephraim, who died from disease contracted in the service. Ebenezer, Jr., also served in the First Virginia regiment."

"Jonathan F. Jonathan F. Martin, the subject of this sketch was reared on a farm and December 29, 1881 he was united in marriage to Miss Eliza M. Zeilinger, daughter of John Zeilinger of Butler County, Nebraska. Of the three children born to this union, two are now living, namely; Clarence Leroy, born in June 1883 and Paul Phillips Henry, born September 5, 1892. Our subject is a man who commands respect wherever he is known, is pleasant, warm hearted and has a good capacity for well-directed labor, which have placed him in the forefront among the farmers of the vicinity. He is keenly active to the interests of the community and does all in his power to push all schemes forward that will in any way enhance its growth or elevate its status.
